Scope and contents

The collection is predominantly composed of postcards of Memphis, Tennessee, covering most of the twentieth century. The postcards document the city and its relationship to the Mississippi River, its streets, buildings and parks. There are some cards from beyond Memphis and a group of cards used for correspondence and advertising, as well as some with photographic portraits and scenes. Many are used and can be dated approximately by the postmarks and notes written on the back. There is some correspondence, including a letter from U.S. Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, and some ephemera.

The collection is named after the father of the donor, Walter Patrick “Pat” McCarver. Grover Edward “Ed” McCarver (1911-1990) was a Memphis policeman and detective, and also an amateur historian. Ed and Alice McCarver had five children: Marilyn, Tim, Grover, Dan, and Pat, who was born on August 4, 1937. Pat married Liz and had five children: Theresa, Dennis, Pat, Jr., Michael and Paul. Pat and Liz moved to Texas in 1998 and Pat, Sr., died in Conroe, Texas, on July 5, 2003.
