Biographical information

Joseph Vere De La Hunt (1856-1935), a native of Vicksburg, Mississippi, is the central member in this family collection, which also includes information on the Battle, Floyd, and Armstrong families. Joseph married Margaret F. Battle, daughter of Michael F. (d. 1899) and Mary Armstrong Battle (d. 1913), in Vicksburg on January 25, 1885. They had eight children who survived to adulthood: Joseph Purnell (d.1965), Clarence Battle (1890-1933), Edmund John, Ira De Sales, Norman G. (d. 1957), Florence Mary (d. 1977), Mary Angela and Margaret Louisa. Joseph worked on Mississippi riverboats from the age of 18, including the "Katie" and the "Issaquena" and became pilot of the "Belle of the Bends". He was then a pilot for the St. Louis, Vicksburg and U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Memphis District from 1911 until 1929, retiring as a master pilot in the levee fleet.

Scope and contents

The collection spans the period from the Civil War to World War II and contains correspondence, clippings, photographs, publications and miscellany. Mary Armstrong Battle wrote and collected poetry. Among the pieces in the poetry collection is one entitled "Flowers of Memory", and the pressed bouquet which inspired it is included. There is also genealogical information on the De La Hunt, Battle and Armstrong families. The collection also contains information relating to Joseph De La Hunt's career as a riverboat captain on the Mississippi River. Included are Vicksburg newspapers on the 1878 yellow fever epidemic, including references to Memphis.
