Biographical information

John P. Bakke was a former professor of rhetoric and communications art and chair of the Department of Communication at the University of Memphis. Bakke was born in Iowa and gained his BA from Luther College in 1960, and then a MA (1963) and PhD (1966) from the University of Iowa. He joined the faculty of Memphis State University in 1967, was chair of the Department of Communication for nine years, and retired in 1999. Bakke served as a political consultant to around 100 political campaigns during his career.

Scope and contents

The collection is comprised mainly of issues of the Commercial Appeal and Memphis Press-Scimitar newspapers which document the sanitation workers’ strike in Memphis, Tennessee, in 1968. Not all the issues are complete but they offer a journalistic viewpoint of the impact of the strike on the city. There are also issues of the Tri-State Defender from that year. In addition, Dr. Bakke’s interest in the career of Elvis Presley is revealed by copies of Memphis newspapers reporting Presley’s death and a number of publications which catered to the fascination of his fans with the singer after Presley’s death in 1977. Some issues of Memphis newspapers report the resignation of President Richard Nixon and issues of Iowa newspapers report the assassination of President John Kennedy.
